Lion Rock Scholarship Programme 2021

Mission Statement:

To give students an opportunity to receive training in a world-class free market think tank abroad, in order to equip them with a cosmopolitan perspective and to develop their independence of mind.

The Lion Rock Institute 獅子山學會

The Lion Rock Institute is a certified charity. The institute was founded in 2004 to support freedom and prosperity in Hong Kong. We take pride in Hong Kong's free market heritage.

Our institute aims to achieve this through direct impact on government policy, and educating policy makers and the general public on the crucial role of free enterprise in maintaining a prosperous Hong Kong. We aim to open the minds of the people of Hong Kong, starting at a young age.

We find that one of the best ways to develop the thinking of Hong Kong students is to send them abroad to gain exposure to some of the best think tanks in the world. Our experience tells us that only when students experience life outside of Hong Kong do they realize that Hong Kong offers world-class safety, reliable and efficient transportation, open markets, and many freedoms other jurisdictions have lost.

The Lion Rock Institute has close connections with some of the most reputed international free market think tanks such as the Atlas Network, Ayn Rand Institute, Students for Liberty, Cato Institute, Reason Foundation, Institute of Public Affairs and the Friedrich Naumann Foundation. We can access these world-class think tanks for Hong Kong students to experience their training programmes.

2021 will be the fifth year of our programme.

Lion Rock Scholarship Programme

This programme was inspired by Mannkal Economic Education Foundation, based in Perth, Australia. Their scholarship programme regularly sends dozens of students bi-annually to think tank across the globe. Lion Rock maintains a close relationship with Mannkal, with our ex-Chairman and Director Bill Stacey sitting on Mannkal's board of advisers. Lion Rock also regularly takes their scholars as our interns.

How we find talented students:

Our Lion Rock Student Multiplier Committee (LRSMC) is a direct link to talented students at a range of universities in Hong Kong. Through information sessions and networking events, our previous scholars are able to encourage and attract future applicants.

We routinely invite talented students to a range of free market-related events in Hong Kong. These events are both self-run and organized by The Lion Rock Institute or our partner organizations. They offer students the chance to network and become more informed about freedom and public policy.

How the right students will be selected:

Application & Initial Selection	The first part of the application process is comprised of the submission of the student's resume and a written submission.
Training Sessions	Shortlisted applicants will be invited to a series of training and information sessions aimed at deepening students' knowledge of freedom. Discussion periods will be a central component of these sessions and will enable us to filter applicants based on their involvement and application of knowledge. The training material and schedule will be sent to the students once the application is confirmed.
Assessment Sessions	Articles: Students are required to write 2 articles on public policy of Hong Kong. Articles will be published in The Lion Rock Institute website and other media outlets of The Lion Rock Institute.  Legco Consultation: Students will be instructed to speak on behalf of The Lion Rock Institute in 1 Legco consultation session.
Final Selections	We will assemble a student selection committee including Lion Rock Institute Board Members and Members from Programme Sponsors to perform the final rounds of interviews. Applicants will be asked to propose a policy change that can improve the lives of the people of Hong Kong.

Testimonials of our Lion Rock Scholars

Anson Leung,
Bachelor of Economics and Finance,
The University of Hong Kong

"My second week in the Ayn Rand Institute is a fruitful and busy. I was assigned with new tasks and other interesting functions. I also received more understanding on the operation of ARI by attending the monthly staff meeting, when everyone participated physically in the office or remotely from other offices. From this week, I was officially assigned to help with the content production team's work."

Sonthra, Elisha M. (Shan),
Macroeconomics,
The University of Hong Kong

"Going through the numbers, I had to forego any previous illusions that a methodical and pre-planned way to break down the numbers would be of any use to me; doing so would laden myself with assumptions that would engender neglecting a path that may prove beneficial for uncovering the truth behind the statistics.This seemingly arbitrary method has more often than not given me greater insight to the mining sector-GDP's ongoing relationship."

Lion Rock Scholarship Programme 2020 - Summary

Although the world was affected by COVID-19 in 2020, we received over 20 initial applications, from which 5 students were selected to attend our online training classes.
